

ORTHODOXC Cranberry.ORG

An Outreach of St. Anthony Orthodox Church of Butler, PA

Cranberry does not have an Orthodox Church but it is home to many Orthodox Christians and to many who seek for the fulness of the Christian faith. There are also many who, for whatever reason, are not attending church.

We are an outreach of Saint Anthony's Orthodox Church in Butler, PA, led by the Rev. Dr. Bogdan Bucur, Associate Professor of Theology at Duquesne University. Our aim is to extend Orthodoxy into Cranberry. If you are among the many who, for whatever reason, do not attend church, this is for you!

Join us on Thursdays, starting on September 24, 7-8 PM to pray and to learn about the Orthodox faith, to ask questions, and to cultivate friendship with God.

"The Orthodox Church is evangelical, but not Protestant. It is orthodox, but not Jewish. It is catholic, but not Roman. It isn't non-denominational—it is pre-denominational. It has believed, taught, preserved, defended and died for the faith of the Apostles since the Day of Pentecost 2,000 years ago" (Steven Robinson, Ancient Faith Radio).

Intrigued? "Come and see!" (John 1:39).

We are meeting in the Cranberry Municipal Center, Brush Creek Room (Cranberry Township Municipal Center, 2525 Rochester Rd)

CONTACT:

Fr. Bogdan Bucur (frbogdan@orthodoxbutler.org, 412.390.8208)

Frank and Stacie Harrison (frankster14er@hotmail.com, 724.814.9304)